The untiring waves beating upon the rocks,
The cascading bee line of birds in the sky,
The silent yet unsullied blooming of flowers each day;
Images of God's bounty in Nature bestowed.
Man, God's unsurpassed creation on Earth,
Whither search ye perfection in word and deed?
Whither stability in thought and action?
With every moment, every action is passé.
Can a flowing stream run up the hill?
Can a fleeting flock retract its flight?
Can a blooming flower bud itself?
Whence attempt finest creation of God,
To relive past moments of happiness?
Whence assume the return of time?
Are you listening to the secret whispering of life?
You've Got to Go With it!
