It's there deep within my heart,
A beautiful feeling that can never depart.
Like the splash of the first monsoon showers
Drenching my body and soul with heavenly power.

It's like a star studded sky
On a new moon
It's like a pious hymn
Sung early at dawn.

It's like intoxicating music
Always enchanting me deep into its lyric.
It's like the graceful steps of a dance
Gripping my soul in a trance.

It's there in a child's innocent smile
And also in an old woman's blessings.

It's there in the air
When I hear my name
From the love of my life.
It's there in the giggles of my children when
Their naughty faces makes my anger soften.

It's there in the memories of my old friends
Pain that weakens the heart, it mends.

It's there in my work
At home and in other spheres
Made closer to worship
By helping the needy and the poor.

It's a wonderful feeling
To unite this world into a string
Brimming with harmony and peace
Filling the cup of life with bliss.

It's LOVE
Love is like a prayer
Only those who can hear will listen
Only those whose hearts are pure will feel.
