It's time to wake from the long sleep
And take a leap so steep
We will rise, we will rise
Above the false vanity
We will rise, we will rise
Above the narrow enmity.

But don't forget if someone challenges our mother-land
We will all take a firm stand
We will not leave them, we will not leave them
We will nip them in the bud.

Our neighboring Country always tend to spread dispute
We warn them to change their attitude
Otherwise be ready to bear our fortitude
We will tear them, we will tear them
And they will end.

Our soldiers make our Country proud
Seeing them all enemies hide
They are the Lions; they are the Titans and the real gems
Salute them, we salute them
For their dedication and love.

Our Prime minister who works day and night
And makes our India bloom with pride
He is a star whose shine will never end
He has the strength of the sun
He makes our Country run
On the path of clarity and prosperity
Thanks a lot, thanks a lot
For the changes you have brought
Your efforts have made our Country rise to pinnacle heights

We thank you Lord
For giving us wisdom and thought
Let's pledge, let's pledge
If we will be united, then only we will be delighted
And will let the external forces be frightened.
So let's wake, let's wake
For the country's sake.
