

AFTER VISITING JOG FALLS

Dr. G. L. Gautam
Associate Professor of English Lajpat Rai College, Sahibabad, Ghaziabad (U.P.)

Being happy the kids of hill have healthy and glowing looks as the thick walls of vapour hang around their homes much far up from the sea

The heavy shower - poring clouds brighten the milk white faces racing up all across the hills cape even being all soaked in water no thought ever strikes their minds to complete half left out homework

Happiness being kid's sole concern they thoughtlessly fall down into deep valley having no thought of injury when they have played long enough the mother pulls the curtain of smoke over the theatre to protect the children from a bad eye