Nature, Oh! Nature, you are so wonderful
You are enchanting the world with
Sprawling valleys, towering mountains
Lush green forests with rocky lands
Vibrant rivers and rich blue lakes
Opulent oceans and seas with scenic beauty.

Nature, Oh! Nature! you are so beautiful
With the crimson colors of the sky
Beautiful sunrise, cool shining moon
Twinkling stars and heavenly planets
Radiating Rainbow with seven superb colors of joy.

Nature, Oh! Nature so brilliant you are
Magnificent moods of seasons
Flowers with fragrance, morning mists with mellow fruitfulness.

Nature, Oh! Nature so magnificent you are.
This marvelous material Nature is beyond doubt a gift of God
God feels pleased if we nourish it with humble servitude.

In all humility, let us love and serve Nature
For a green, clean and better tomorrow.
If man tries to master Nature with selfish material interests
Nature no doubt ends every creature with no future.
The Nature is so kind as it always gives us more
Whether we care or don't care.
It returns your love in multitude irrespective of your attitude
Nature, Oh! Nature, so magnanimous you are from times immemorial.
