Inexplicably nothing happens
There is a hope for something from someone.

These raindrops want to say something.
They might hope for someone.
Otherwise it does not make any noise,
They want someone to listen to their voice.

Inexplicably nothing happens
There is a hope for something from someone.

The rising sun wants us to learn something.
He has a hope of something from us.
Otherwise it does not even come on its own time.
But this phenomenon seems to us fine.

Inexplicably nothing happens
There is a hope for something from someone.

How did these twinkling stars accompany
There is a hope something from you
Otherwise, they do not fall so inexplicably.
Nothing remains throughout the journey.
