Hadn`t you laughed
like Medusa?

Benign ray
of my shiniest sun
forgot to bath world.
Green fountains
which god almighty
raised through dead soil weavered leaves
covered their mother
coloured wedding robe.

Spreaded above
wide blue father
counting self infinity.
Invisible moon
composing nuptial song.

Hadn`t your hidden smile
inhibited
our fortunate goals ?

Lingered on the chest of
rut world desert,
as angels
quest of true
lost heaven.

Mind the love
and beauty
As every desert
mourns its widowhood
under unlimited sky.
